

Thought I would send you a note and tell you how much I miss visiting your house! After a quick vacation to the beach, the other elves and I are back to work. I've already started making toys for next Christmas! Are you being good and listening to your parents? Remember, even though I'm not there each day to watch, Santa knows when you are naughty or nice! I can't wait to visit again during the holidays!

